Exercise: Factors Contributing to My Depression

Goal

You understand what may have contributed to your depression.

Instructions

Think about and list the things that have contributed to the development of your depression.

Consider both long-term factors and events that occurred around the time the depression began. Remember that positive events can also cause strain.

Factors contributing to my depression:

For example: 'I am constantly lonely'